Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being anticipated by Burda (2003/0219234).

Regarding claims 1 and 2, Burda discloses a hard disk recorder having a time-shift playback function of storing a program which is now being received (Paragraph 0061),

- displaying the stored program, even if program-storing is still under way, in such a manner that the program is displayed from an arbitrary section of the program among program sections that have already been stored (Paragraph 0058),

- and pausing the display of the program or changing the display speed according to an operation by a user while the program is being watched (Paragraph 0058), comprising:
- a hard disk for storing said program which is now being received (paragraph 0061);
- and a control unit responsive to a channel-switch instruction for setting said hard disk in a pause state from which a storing operation can immediately be started and thereafter setting said hard disk in a recording-wait state to switch the channel (Paragraph 0082) and,
- according to a determination that said hard disk is in the recording-wait state, setting said hard disk in a playback state (Paragraph 0082).
